There is no waking up to a better tomorrow

No one will say

"That was a mistake

Here is the good news"

It has happened

It will not change

There is no waking up to a better tomorrow

St. Swithen's Day

But oh no, we met
For the first time on the 15th of July
And I remember that day from a book
Where the characters fell in love
And did not know they were Doomed

10/8/14 4:48AM
he looks like a comfortable bed and I am very tired

It's late, the television casts a flickering light over my pale skin
You kiss my shoulder
But there's no warmth in it
You're just going through the motions
I resist the urge to curl up beside you
To cling to you and bury my face in your neck
I start to get dressed

My phone is in my hand
You look at me, hesitating
You know me better than you wanted to I'm sorry I showed you so much
I wish I could take it back
But once I get going it's hard to stop

I pick up my boots in one hand
Cross the room in my socks
To press a quick kiss against your lips
Please don't ask me to stay
We both know you don't really want that
And I don't think I'm strong enough to say no

But you just sigh, run a hand through your hair
Turn back to the TV
I let myself out and the night air hits me
I close my eyes and tip my face up to the moon
I feel my heart beating and breathe out slowly
I am alive
I am living
